

The Great Pyramids

It's time you learned the truth — the wonders of the world were actually built by aliens. It seems they even left their signature on each of the wonders, and indicators on the Great Pyramids to where they can be found. If only we could get in touch, I'd want to ask why they stopped.

You should have received five 3D-printed components. You may want to write on them — we've found pencil works best — but please do not break them.

A warning: there are no short explanations for ancient history, so if you stop too soon you might only have half of the answer.
